BROTHER-IN-LAW IS HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR TROUBLE

The marital troubles of Margaret C. Sullivan and Michael P. Sullivan apparently were brought to a halt this morning when the couple appeared in the editorial rooms of the Standard with the claim that a divorce complaint filed by the former on August 26 was not inspired by the wife, but was the work of the wife's brother.

Mrs. Sullivan admitted signing the complaint, but stated she did not know what she was signing when she appended her name to the document.

Both she and her husband asserted they had been maligned, scandalously, Sullivan said.

"I am being sued for divorce by my brother-in-law and not by my wife," the complaint was filed together with an application for an order to restrain the defendant from dissipating $2000, said to be on deposit in the Ogden State bank, from disposing of other property said to be of the probable worth of $15,000 and also from selling an eight-cylinder King automobile.

Sullivan, this morning, declared that the automobile was still in his possession, that he left town in it and returned with the same $425 he had in his pocket when he put Ogden in the dim and remote distance.

No action has been taken in the case, according to Joseph Cher and David L. Stine, counsel for the plaintiff.

The U. S. civil service commission announces an open competitive examination for forest ranger, on October 30, 1916. Within the intermountain forest service district the examination will be given at the following points:

Idaho—Boise, Challis, Emmett, Hailey, Mackay, McCall, Montpelier, Oakley, Salmon, St. Anthony, Weiser.

Utah—Ephraim, Escalante, Kanab, Logan, Moab, Panguitch, Provo, Richfield, St. George, Salina, Salt Lake City, Vernal.

Nevada—Austin, Elko, Ely.

Wyoming—Afton, Jackson.

Competitors will be examined as to their education and experience, and by a set of practical questions on pertinent subjects. Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 40. From the register of eligibles resulting from the examination, appointments will be made to fill vacancies in this position as they may occur in the forest service, within the states in which the examination is held. The entrance salary is from $1,100 to $1,200 per year. Full information regarding the examination, and applications banks, may be secured from the forest supervisors at the above named points, or from the civil service commission at Washington.

Concerning the position of forest ranger, the following statement was issued at Ogden forest headquarters this morning:

"While the position of forest ranger calls for a high degree of mental and physical ability and means hard work all year round the work has many attractions for the young man of the west, who takes an interest in the protection and development of the vast forest resources of the region, and who can not only meet present requirements, but keep up with the constantly advancing standards of public service demanded from men in this capacity."

Ogden City may be the owner of a cinnamon bear cub within the near future, if the commission acts favorably on the suggestion of Miles L. Jones, commissioner of parks and public property, that a cub now a captive of Lester Gustin, at Nephin, Utah, be purchased for the proposed zoo in Glenwood Park next summer.

Information that the cub was for sale was contained in a letter from H. H. Green, commissioner of parks and public property, in Salt Lake. Commissioner Jones received the letter this morning.

Enclosed was a photograph of the cub as a female and a fine specimen.

In his letter, Mr. Green stated there were a sufficient number of bears in the Salt Lake zoo, and that he referred the matter to the Ogden commissioner in the belief that the city necessarily would be compelled to purchase certain animals in the event the zoo is established.

Mr. Jones said the city had no means for keeping the little bear through the winter months, but that, if some one would volunteer to keep it until next summer, the commission in all probability would consider a purchase proposition.

LEWIS PEAK IS NOT BEN LOMOND

Due to a statement in one of the Salt Lake newspapers that "Ben Lomond" and "Lewis Peak" are one and the same, President Lewis W. Shurtliff explained today that "Lewis Peak" is the highest peak between Ben Lomond and Observatory Peak, in the mountains east and northeast of the city. It is located almost directly northeast of Five Points, at a considerable distance southeast of Ben Lomond, along the mountain range.

A party of local mountain climbers are to ascend "Lewis Peak" tomorrow.

AMALGAMATED SUGAR FACTORIES TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

According to estimates compiled today at the Amalgamated Sugar company general offices, the total production of sugar beets for the five factories operated by that corporation will be 493,000 tons, an increase of more than 100,000 tons over the production for the company's factories last year. At $5.50 a ton, this would total $2,711,500.

The Ogden district yield is estimated at 14 tons per acre, the highest of the five districts in which the company operates factories. The average yield is estimated at 12.2 tons per acre.

Digging of sugar beets started in the Ogden district today and will be continued now without a break until the ground freezes. Secretary Fred G. Taylor of the company said that it was expected that there will be sufficient beets on hand to start operations at the factory either next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Plants at Logan and Lewiston, in Cache valley, will be started on October 2, beet digging also having started there. The Burley plant will begin operations on October 4 and the Twin Falls plant will start its initial run about October 20.

Construction crews for the Dyer Construction company of Cleveland, Ohio, arrived at Smithfield, in Cache county, yesterday afternoon and work on the new sugar plant near that town is now being started. This plant is to be ready for operation next year, making the sixth factory for the Amalgamated company.

The case of the City vs. Frank Creighbaum, F. C. Manly and F. Peterson was brought up in the municipal court this morning and, owing to neither side being ready for the trial, it was continued until October 2.

Lee Hale, arrested on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, forfeited $310 bail. He was arrested by Officers Paine and Naylor at the Union depot, early yesterday morning. J. Culley, a transient arrested for drunkenness and attempting to sell phony jewelry, forfeited $10 bail. J. Finley was sentenced to serve 10 days in jail for appearing before the court twice in a period of three days for drunkenness. Oscar Johnson, A. Edwards, Jos. Drysdale and Fred Mack, plain drunks, were each sentenced to serve five days in jail.

For damaging one of the safety zone posts at Washington avenue and Twenty-fifth street by driving an automobile against it, E. Donaldson was assessed $35. He forfeited the money by not appearing for trial.

WORKMAN CAUGHT IN MACHINE HAS BROKEN LEG

Charles Combe, an employee of the Stewart Construction company, suffered a fractured leg early this morning, while at work on the addition to the plant of the Ogden Packing and Provision company. He was working near one of the sand conveyors, when his right leg became caught in the belt and was drawn into the machine. The machine was quickly stopped by a fellow workman and Combe was extricated and taken to the Deane hospital, where he was attended by Dr. E. R. Dumke.

His injuries were found to consist of a fracture of the fibula about three inches above the ankle and a split tibia.

The injuries are not considered permanent and Combe is expected to be out of the hospital within two weeks.

FAIRBANKS IS NOT TO SPEAK IN OGDEN

Charles W. Fairbanks, Republican candidate for vice president, will not speak in Ogden when he arrives in Utah Friday for a two-day tour in which he will deliver addresses in support of his candidacy and for the success of the Republican party in county, state and national tickets.

This was the decision reached by the state committee in Salt Lake yesterday. Telegrams were sent from Ogden to the Chairman Glen Miller while the committee was in session, requesting that Mr. Fairbanks include Ogden in his tour. However to change the itinerary was deemed impracticable.

Plans for the reception of Mr. Fairbanks were practically completed. A committee composed of A. D. McCullen, E. H. Calkins, L. J. Haddock, Frank W. Fishburn, Samuel D. Dye and Preston G. Peterson was appointed to meet the candidate at Provo and escort him to Salt Lake City.

CHLORAL GANG MAY HAVE ACTED

Comment was rife on lower Twenty-fifth street this morning that a "chloral" gang had obtained another victim, when Patsy Sloan, a transient laborer, collapsed on the sidewalk in front of the Clark drug store, a short distance west of Grant avenue. He struck upon his head and face and blood was quickly flowing profusely from his nose and scratches on the side of his face.

A hurry-up call was sent to the police station and within a couple of minutes, a half dozen officers were on the scene, some coming from the station in the auto patrol and others from nearby points on their beats. Sloan, who could not in speak, was lifted into the patrol and taken to the station where he soon recovered his voice. He was booked on a charge of drunkenness and, according to the police, was very guilty of the charge.

SENATOR SMOOT HAS ORTHODOX JEWS ARE SEEN VICTORY IN THE EAST TO HOLD SERVICES IN K. OF P. HALL

Salt Lake, Sept. 27.—Senator Reed Smoot yesterday declared that sentiment throughout the country is for a return to power of the Republican party. He asserted that in the east and middle west states voters are flocking to the support of Charles E. Hughes, Republican nominee for president. The Mexican situation, he declares, has humiliated the United States in the eyes of the entire world and Americans in Mexico were forced to seek refuge on British and German warships, which took them out of the danger zone on the east coast of Mexico.

He argues that a protective tariff is necessary at this time in order that American manufacturers and workmen may be in a position to keep the mills and factories of this country running after the European war, asserting that in contrast to the prosperity brought on by war orders the country will be flooded with European-made goods unless preventive action is taken through the enactment of a protective tariff.

Senator Smoot condemns the Adamson bill, and added that the Democratic party broke its platform pledges by the passage of a number of appropriations which caused the last Congress to be the most extravagant in history. Senator Smoot also declared that the legislation enacted by the administration in regard to the purchase of ships cannot be put into force.

ARRESTED ON A ROBBERY CHARGE

Bertha Berry, a negroess 29 years old, was locked in the city jail shortly after 1 o'clock this morning on a charge of robbery. She was arrested by Sergeant J. F. Kellher, Detective Grant Syphers and Patrolman T. J. Paine in the Ark at the Twenty-sixth street intersection of Wall avenue, on the complaint of John Rickman, a laborer employed in construction work on the Union Pacific, that the woman had taken $50 from his pockets while he held his hands up under cover of a revolver of another negro.

At the time of the dish-rag episode the defendant further alleges in the cross-complaint that the plaintiff applied to him vile and abusive names. He avers that she has persisted in showing her discontent with such maintenance as was within his power to provide for her, has nagged and wheedled him for unnecessary things which he could not afford to buy, and further became angered when he refused to grant her wishes. This refusal, the defendant points out, did not occur until after the charges the plaintiff had induced him to buy certain luxuries with the result that he is now indebted to the amount of about $800 for the same.
